

LEFTY O'DOUL:

BASEBALL

and the

BLOODY MARY MIX

“You make them the best Bloody Mary – just don’t give them the recipe!”

Baseball legend, Lefty O’Doul was a giant among men and an inspiration to children everywhere. In 1958 he opened the world renowned Lefty O’Doul’s Bar in San Francisco. There he could be found Sunday mornings swapping stories with the likes of Joe DiMaggio and Marilyn Monroe.

Although Lefty was known for his impressive friends, he was also known for mixing an incredible Bloody Mary. He always knew how to keep the fans coming back.

51 years and a Million Bloody Mary’s later, the secret recipe is out. This limited release of the original secret Bloody Mary mix recipe is now available to everyone.
